Heading into November, collect data, organize & strategically mobilize voters with a clear plan of action.

Scattered Treasures is the first celebrity-driven concept integrated with blockchain technology that features a quick response gateway called Yottabyte Optical Media Code (YO code).

YO code is an advertising tool that targets voters with accuracy and allows politicians to target voters across all media screens. Using authoritative data and digital targeting enables messaging at the office, at home, and on the go.

Sending the right advertisement at the right time can be worth thousands of votes. YO code is an advanced, customizable, QR technology that enables instant connections and provides a platform to initiate connections with millions of residents.

YO code is very simple to implement into campaigns and unlike many other marketing techniques, a politician can try it without enormous costs to the campaign.
